Major John Inwood,

Headquarters, R.A.F.,

Toronto.

Dear Major Inwood:

Many thanks for your letter. I felt that we were going somewhat too far in sending on to you additional requests, and now that I have been at McGill yesterday I feel more than ever that we have been almost overgenerously treated by you. Will you assure General Moore that we appreciate what you have done for us ?

Yours sincerely,

President.

Sir Robert Falconer.

Dear Sir.

I noticed by the "Globe" that you are giving a special Course for Matriculation - my Son has been working in a Munition Factory for some months, & now that he is out of work it is too late to return to High School for this years work - would you Kindly let me know, your

Mrs. J. S. Ireland,

St. Forest.

Dear Mrs. Ireland:

The special classes for matriculation which are being arranged by the University are meant only for enlisted soldiers, especially those who have seen such service as would make it unwise for them to return to the High School. We cannot open the classes to others as this is altogether an unusual piece of war work. I think that your boy should at once go back to the High School, especially as he is only seventeen years of age.

Yours sincerely,

President.

Dr William Mann Irvine
Mercersberg Academy
Mercersberg Pa., U.S.A.

Dear Sir:

I regret very much that there seems to be no possibility of securing a man for you in Mathematics. The Professor of Mathematics tells me that for weeks he has been looking for an assistant to the Professor of Mathematics in our Royal Military College at Kingston, but without success.

With kind regards, I am

Colonel Irving,

A.D.M.S.,

M.D. #2,

Toronto.

My dear Colonel Irving:

I should like to lay before you the case of Dr. William Goldie. As you are aware we asked the Military Authorities at Ottawa to have him recalled in order that he might undertake some necessary duties for us in the University. I find that it is impossible for him to carry on both military duties and our duties, and as the Military Authorities were good enough to recall him at our request will you be kind enough to make such arrangements as will permit him to be set aside to do the University work? There are very important matters coming forward at present for which we need him.

Yours sincerely,

President.

Miss Jessie C. Irving,

Sudbury, Ont.

Dear Miss Irving:

Macdonald College, Que. sent a letter through Professor C. J. Lynds, of the Department of Physics, stating that they desire some one to teach elementary university physics. They are prepared to pay $1200 with free room and board to one who is qualified. I heard yesterday that you had given up your school at Ingersoll, and perhaps you might like to apply direct to Professor Lynds for this post at Macdonald College.

Yours very truly,

President's Secretary.

Sir Robert Falconer
University of Toronto.

Sir:

Could you advise me as to whether any steps are being taken by the University to enable returned overseas men to continue their courses at the University without the loss of any more time than is absolutely necessary?

I arrived home from England last week was unable to gain admission to my faculty on account of lateness of the term and I wondered if there were any steps being taken to allow returning men to continue their studies without the loss of the time from now until next October. That a one year setback means a lot to a man who is anxious to go ahead with his profession you will undoubtedly admit. I would be very greatly obliged if you could inform me on this matter if at all possible.

December 12th, 1918

Mr. A. L. Irwin,

333 Spadina Avenue,

Toronto.

Dear Mr. Irwin:

It is the intention of the University to endeavour to start courses some time after the New Year, though how soon we are not in a position to say, in order that returning men may not require to wait until next October to resume their work. I should advise you to put in a definite application in writing to the Faculty of Applied Science in regard to this matter. If at any time in the future I can be of service to you please let me know.

Yours sincerely,

President.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

I am given to understand that Mr. Arthur Isaacson, B.S., is desirous of continuing graduate work in New York and I am glad to be able to aid him in obtaining any privileges that his connection with the University of Toronto may secure for him.

Dr. Isaacson held the James B. Richardson Fellowship in Anatomy in the University of Toronto in 1916-17, and Professor Mcmurrich of the Department assures me that he did very faithful work while he held this position. He has also been Class Assistant in Biology under Professor Beasley. From the reports that are given to me from both of these gentlemen I am confident that Dr. Isaacson may be relied upon as doing very faithful work in any position which is open to him.
